

Pr. Jean-Marc Ayoubi, FOCH Hospital, France

Professor Jean-Marc Ayoubi is a renowned French gynecologist and obstetrician and Head of the Obstetrics-Gynecology Department at FOCH Hospital and a Professor at the University of Paris-Saclay. He is also a member of the College of French Gynecologists and Obstetricians and has been honored with the National Order of the Legion of Honor and the National Order of Merit of the Lebanese Republic.

Educational Background: Dr. Ayoubi holds a PhD and has extensive training in obstetrics and gynecology.

Notable Works and Achievements:

- Pioneering Uterine Transplantation: Professor Ayoubi is best known for leading the team that performed the first successful uterine transplant in France. This groundbreaking procedure resulted in the birth of a baby girl named Misha on February 12, 2021.
- Head of the Obstetrics-Gynecology Department at FOCH Hospital.
- Member of the College of the French Gynecologists and Obstetricians.
- Honorary member of the Middle East Fertility Society (MEFS).
- Member of the Scientific Committee of the World Telemedicine Congress

Publications and Contributions: He has co-authored several medical books, including:

- Les grossesses multiples (The Multiple Pregnancies)
- Connaissance et pratique Gynécologie-Obstétrique (Knowledge and Practice of Obstetrics and Gynecology)
- Maladies rares et grossesses (Rare Diseases and Pregnancies).

Professor Ayoubi's contributions to reproductive medicine and his pioneering work in uterine transplantation have made significant impacts in the field of gynecology and obstetrics.