

Pr. Botros M. Rizk, University of South Alabama, USA

Dr. Botros M. Rizk is a distinguished figure in the field of reproductive endocrinology and infertility. He serves as the Professor and Head of Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility at the University of South Alabama. Additionally, he is the Medical and Scientific Director of USA In Vitro Fertilization and Assisted Reproduction

Dr. Rizk has an impressive educational background and professional journey. He was mentored by Nobel Laureate Professor Robert Edwards, who was awarded the Nobel Prize in Physiology or Medicine for the development of in vitro fertilization (IVF). Dr. Rizk holds multiple prestigious titles and certifications, including:

- MD, MA, FACOG, FACS, HCLD, FRCOG, FRCS
- Fellow of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (FACOG)
- Fellow of the American College of Surgeons (FACS)
- Fellow of the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists (FRCOG)
- Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons (FRCS)

He has contributed significantly to the field through his research, publications, and clinical practice. Dr. Rizk is known for his expertise in infertility treatments and reproductive medicine, serving patients across various locations in the United States